“e-Consultation for Medical Students”

Introduction

This seminar will show how Leicester Medical School is introducing e-Consultation to medical students in their first year in a pilot project. Both the approach and provisional evaluation findings will be shared for discussion.

Aim

- To foster an understanding of the implications of e-Consultation for the teaching of medical students and doctors.

Purpose

- To share thoughts and approaches regarding the teaching of e-Consultation.
- To consider ways in which e-Consultation can be introduced into the medical undergraduate curriculum.
- To understand the advantages, limitations and logistics of teaching e-Consultation.

Invitees

- Anyone with an interest in helping medical students or doctors learn e-consultation.

Booking a Place

- To attend, please e-mail Dr Ronald Hsu at rth4@leicester.ac.uk.
- If you have any particular dietary preferences, please describe these in your e-mail, e.g. vegetarian.
